

Jeff Logan:

I could fill volumes but suffice it to say I am happily living in the Atlanta area, General Manager for Cobb County Transit, one of several transit systems here. Life has been interesting including a number of moves over the years, a second marriage (Sheri) that has lasted 26 years, military service, much of it overseas, a five year period as a Commercial Diver in the Gulf of Mexico, returning to the area to finish my degree at UMass 1988 to 1992 (I was 37 when I went back, yikes!), three wonderful grandkids living in Amherst with my son Richard and his wife Michelle and a number of dogs as our companions at home.

My address is:

2573 River Knoll Drive
Lilburn, GA 30047
